She keeps the light

atop a rocky three-acre island sits a tall, whitewashed beacon — the Boston Light. For 224 years it has Boston Light. For 224 years it has flashed a warning to everyone from captains of tall ships to modern sailors of war, commerce, and leisure.

Indeed, while Snowman has a PhD in education and has taught in preschool on up to university level, Boston Light was a lifelong beacon to her. She spent 30 years in the Coast Guard Auxiliary and began volunteering at the lighthouse in 1994, the same year she got married there to Jay the same year she got married there to Jay Thompson, a fellow auxiliary member.
